

Color Key of Recommended Ages

Blue: Younger (anywhere from 1-7)

Orange: Older (7 and up)

Purple: All Ages

DayDream

Daydream: An Art for Young Audiences Hub

This new annual hub, curated by Philly Children's Theatre for the FringeArts Festival, is the perfect opportunity to let your imaginations run wild through the power of art.

Join us on September 23rd and 24th at the West Philadelphia Boys & Girls Club in Cobbs Creek for two full days of art-making, music-creating, dance-grooving workshops provided by organizations across Philadelphia. You'll also have the chance to watch interactive performances of opera, theatre, storytelling, and dance. All events are pay-what-you-wish!

Saturday, September 23rd

9:30 AM- 10:30 AM

Art Workshop (Julia Gutman)

Dream Street: Community Collages inspired by Tricia Elam Walker and Ekuia Holmes' book, Dream Street

Inspired by Tricia Elam Walker and Ekuia Holmes' book Dream Street, participants will use a multimedia approach to explore their dreams for themselves and their community.

The workshop will begin with a video reading of Dream Street produced by students at Julia De Burgos Elementary School in Fairhill, Philly.

Participants will then be invited to brainstorm their hopes and dreams for their community, which they will represent in a collage. Participants will learn a variety of collage techniques and have access to a variety of different materials to create their beautiful collages. The workshop will conclude with an invitation for participants to write a letter to their council members urging them to make these dreams a reality for their community. These letters will be mailed after the workshop with a photo of the participant's collage.

Color Key of Recommended Ages

Blue: Younger (anywhere from 1-7)

Orange: Older (7 and up)

Purple: All Ages

10:30 AM -11 AM*Jump-Spin-Move! A Play for the Very Young (Philly Children's Theatre)*

Jump-Spin-Move! A Theatre Show for the Very Young (for ages 1-6) is an interactive movement theatre show set to an original score about celebrating the different and unique ways that we can move our bodies! This show is accessible for children of all abilities to participate.

11:30-12*Storytime Buzz with Beehive (Beehive at the Bok Building)*

Come join Beehive at Bok for a special music storytime!

12pm - 1:30pm*Flamenco Demonstration/Workshop*

Flamenco Y Más presents "Postcards from Spain"

Flamenco Y Más, is a local company of dancers & musicians with a children's ensemble that perform in festivals, operas and ballets. Our new interactive concert is "Postcards from Spain", which will bring to life iconic scenes from Andalusia through Traditional Flamenco and Classical Spanish Dance. Prepare to be taken on a Music and Dance journey throughout the Iberian Peninsula as we have families participate with dance, movement, song and body percussion.

2 PM- 3PM*Takin' It To The Streets: A Community Tap Dance Workshop with Sound Space Performing Arts*

Performances by the Philadelphia Youth Tap Exchange
Family community tap dance workshop

Color Key of Recommended Ages

Blue: Younger (anywhere from 1-7)

Orange: Older (7 and up)

Purple: All Ages

3:15 PM- 4 PM

Music Pathway (Margin Tianya Zheng)

A hands-on workshop in three parts. First, we will explore sounds that we can make with our bodies, our voices, and various instruments. Second, we will talk about music scores and how they connect different senses to sound-making, and we will create a three-dimensional score using everyday objects that feel good or interesting to our senses. We will then take a five-minute break, and finally we will perform our score altogether for our families.

4:15 PM - 5 PM

Hayley Collins Music

Hayley Elizabeth Collins, mezzo-soprano, and collaborative pianist, Michael Confalone, welcome all to witness what happens when you combine two of Hayley's favorite things, poetry and music! Art song is the combination of these two art forms, and is widely used in the classical voice world alongside opera, choir, and small ensembles. Together we'll speak through poetry, look at the words written with a critical eye, and Hayley will sing what we've read through!

5:15 PM - 6 PM

"Let It Go" A Musical Theatre Workshop from Music Theatre Philly

For kids ages 5 - 12. Music Theatre Philly is a professional training ground for the performing arts for children and teens. Participants will learn the choreography and vocals to one of the musical numbers from our upcoming production of FROZEN.

Sunday, September 24th

10 AM-10:30 AM

Jump-Spin-Move! A Play for the Very Young (Philly Children's Theatre)

Jump-Spin-Move! A Theatre Show for the Very Young (for ages 1-6) is an interactive movement theatre show set to an original score about celebrating the different and unique ways that we can move our bodies! This show is accessible for children of all abilities to participate.

Color Key of Recommended Ages

Blue: Younger (anywhere from 1-7)

Orange: Older (7 and up)

Purple: All Ages

11 AM - 11:40 AM

Movement Workshop (Discovering Rainbows: Creative Movement (Sarah Gordin)

This interactive creative movement workshop will be filled with rainbows and fun! Come join Sarah Gordin, Artistic Director of Philly Children's Theatre, as we create and find rainbows with our bodies, sing and act out stories, and learn new dance moves! Geared for ages 1-8.

11:30 AM

Recycled Sounds (Musicopia Performance and Workshop)

This performance and workshop program, by renowned percussionist Dendê Macêdo, uses instruments he made from found materials to deliver a message about protecting our environment through reuse and recycling.

1 PM- 1:45 PM

Hayley Collins Music

Hayley Elizabeth Collins, mezzo-soprano, and collaborative pianist, Michael Confalone, welcome all to witness what happens when you combine two of Hayley's favorite things, poetry and music! Art song is the combination of these two art forms, and is widely used in the classical voice world alongside opera, choir, and small ensembles. Together we'll speak through poetry, look at the words written with a critical eye, and Hayley will sing what we've read through!

2 PM - 2:45 PM

Music Pathway (Margin Tianya Zheng)

A hands-on workshop in three parts. First, we will explore sounds that we can make with our bodies, our voices, and various instruments. Second, we will talk about music scores and how they connect different senses to sound-making, and we will create a three-dimensional score using everyday objects that feel good or interesting to our senses. We will then take a five-minute break, and finally we will perform our score altogether for our families.

Color Key of Recommended Ages

Blue: Younger (anywhere from 1-7)

Orange: Older (7 and up)

Purple: All Ages

3 PM- 4 PM

Scribble Sky

Philly Young Playwrights Workshop (ages 7 and up)

Ever daydream while gazing up at the clouds?

What if we told you that those daydreams can become plays, and those clouds can become characters? With your creativity, anything is possible!

Join Philadelphia Young Playwrights for Scribble Sky, a signature activity that will show you one of the zillion ways to make a play. We'll move our daydreams onto pages of paper, and take our plays from the clouds to the stage!

This activity is best enjoyed by artists ages 7 and up.*

4 PM - 5 PM

Art Workshop (Julia Gutman)

Dream Street: Community Collages inspired by Tricia Elam Walker and Ekua Holmes' book, Dream Street

Inspired by Tricia Elam Walker and Ekua Holmes' book Dream Street, participants will use a multimedia approach to explore their dreams for themselves and their community.

The workshop will begin with a video reading of Dream Street produced by students at Julia De Burgos Elementary School in Fairhill, Philly.

Participants will then be invited to brainstorm their hopes and dreams for their community, which they will represent in a collage. Participants will learn a variety of collage techniques and have access to a variety of different materials to create their beautiful collages. The workshop will conclude with an invitation for participants to write a letter to their council members urging them to make these dreams a reality for their community. These letters will be mailed after the workshop with a photo of the participant's collage.

5 PM- Dance Celebration Party

Let's celebrate the end of DayDream!